Police Officer, Tattoo Collector, and Model @kp\_xoxo is the entire freaking package, as a matter of fact she is so hot, she has grown her profession and hobby into the 100k+ Instagram page @fitcops. Some may wonder how it's possible to hold a professional career and maintain that sexy IG image. Being an Police Officer typically limits what is viewed as "acceptable to post", but KP has found a very harmonious existence for both.

Check out our Q&A to get a little insight into the balancing act.

What came first, taking sexy photos or becoming a cop? Cop job was first for me!

What type of adversities do you face in your workplace due to your personal interests? I have definitely had struggles/consequences of a sort, in the past with my online presence (Fit Cops) and the modeling. However, as time goes on, and I continue to humanize the badge FOR REAL with these endeavors - it seems like it's becoming less of a topic of interest.

What advice do you have for women like yourself who are interested in working as a police officer? Make sure you are ready to be the strongest version of yourself that you have ever even imagined would be possible. This job is extremely hard, and even more so for females. It changes you forever. Be ready for that.

What made you decide to start a cop *fitness* page? I wanted to create a positive fitness/ mental health/uniform humor page for law enforcement. It quickly turned in to a family, across the world, that I had always wished for in this job.

Has it been a positive or negative experience?

If you could go back in time in your life would you do anything differently? It is a mix of both positives and negatives. Some days I wish I would have gone to school to be a therapist (because who doesn't need one of those every now and then haha!) instead of becoming a Police Officer so young. However, I know I'm a true cop at heart, and it would be hard to do anything else.

Do you have kids, and if so do you have any advice for working moms struggling to pursue their passions? I have an AMAZING 8 year old son. Working shift work is definitely difficult when you have young children, but I suggest you reach out to friends/family that you trust to help with childcare, and make your dream come true!

What is your favorite thing about being a good looking female police officer? Awe! I am just honored to know that Texas Inked Mag thinks so!

What is your least favorite thing about being a good looking female police officer? You must prove yourself 100 times more to your workmates.
